HARRY ELLIS DICKSON

Harry Ellis Dickson has for many years had two careers in music. He joined the Boston Symphony Orchestra as a violinist in 1938, but had also been active as a conductor before then. His conducting career has flourished since at the Pops, the Esplanade and with the Youth Concerts at Symphony Hall, the series he founded in 1959.

An ardent collector of anecdotes about musicians, he has written an entertaining book, 'Gentlemen, more dolce please', which was published last fall. Recently he was created a Chevalier in the Ordre des Arts et des Lettres by the French government.

For forty-two years visitors from all over the world have joined Bostonians in enjoying superb music masterfully performed by the famous Esplanade Concert Orchestra at the Hatch Memorial Shell on the banks of the Charles River.

Free to the public, the Annual Esplanade Concert series is a welcome event to every music lover during the summer season and is another way in which Boston upholds its position as the cultural center of the world.

For The Gillette Company, which began sixty-eight years ago in Boston and is now the world leader in grooming products for men and women, it is indeed a privilege to help maintain this justly famous cultural tradition of our city.

Among the many pleasures which Boston offers residents and visitors alike is the enjoyment of some of the world's finest music. The Esplanade Concerts on the banks of the Charles are an integral part of our city's proud tradition. Each concert is a memorable occasion. We are pleased to sponsor this evening's concert. Pleasant listening. Raytheon Company, Lexington, Massachusetts.
